The catechesis of parents whose children are making the journey of Christian initiation: "the community fosters the involvement of parents in their children's journey of initiation, which for some of them is a moment to deepen their faith and for others is an authentic space for its first proclamation." DFC #232

Curriculum Focus on Children's Lessons

- Aligning Parent Formation with children's lessons
- Facilitation - LG / SG /LG
- Many lessons learned (like these below)
- Do not talk at
  - it's a dialogue, not a lecture
- Parents learn as much from each other as they do from us (if not more!) Allow conversation.
- Affirm, affirm, affirm!
Seasonally Focused

- Advent
- Christmas
- Lent
- Holy Week
- Easter
- Pentecost
- Ordinary Time

In person gatherings and equipping of parents for continued exploration at home throughout that season.

Theme Focused

- Prayer
- Reading the Bible
- Keeping Sabbath
- Spiritual & Corporal Works of Mercy
- Gifts of the Spirit & Fruits of the Spirit
- Catholic Social Teaching
- Other Christian Living Practices

The family is a proclamation of faith in that it is the natural place in which faith can be lived in a simple and spontaneous manner. DFC #227

As a domestic church, the Christian family takes part in the Church's mission of evangelization and is therefore an agent of catechesis. DFC #21

Coaching Parents
Lesson Focused

- Again, aligning Parent Formation with Children’s Lessons
- Much the same way as the in-person gathering (LG, SG, LG again)
- Many went this way due to COVID, when parents were teaching at home.
- Some have continued, as parents liked flexibility.
- Great for flipped classroom approach
- Can include parenting helps

Small Group Focus (Pods)

- Building trust/relationships
- Praying with/for
- Creating community through story sharing
- Equipping, encouraging and supporting

Leader last week in DOJ
A Hybrid Approach

- In-Person & Online
- So many ways to do this "both/and" approach

One parish described it this way:

We are excited to offer a formation model that is home-based, family-focused and offers both an on-campus and a digital option to better meet our families' needs.

Inspired by a home-study model and the blended and digital models we used during the pandemic, the parish is offering a model that is more comprehensive and beneficial for all involved.
Another parish... this way:

Hybrid Faith Formation:
A combination of in-person formation at Church and at-home formation
- First and Third Tuesdays, kids meet in-person from 6:30-7:30pm at the parish
- Second Tuesday, lesson at home
- Fourth Tuesday, Parent & Catechist formation night 6:30-8:00pm

John Roberto of Lifelong Faith has described it this way:
- Hybrid models of parish life and faith formation integrate in-person gatherings at church or in family groups or small group meetings with online content that offers a rich menu of faith forming experiences.
- Hybrid models hold together two important values: the importance of in-person relationships and faith forming experiences, and the importance of being responsive to the complexity of people’s lives and their religious-spiritual needs.
- Hybrid models expand faith formation opportunities for everyone, allowing leaders to become much more strategic about when, where, how, and for what we gather people because we can now integrate online with in-person faith forming.
Parent/Family Led Faith Formation Plans

- Offered as one component of a program or a supplement to your current program
- This gives parents ownership over their family's faith formation plan
- Allows families to choose lessons, practices, events, etc. according to their own spirituality, the spirituality of their children, their family's schedule, ages of the children, & more
- Can have a Season, Theme, or "Life of the Parish" Focus

Seasonally Focused

One Texas parish offered this approach when they returned after COVID.

Example:
- Parents and their children were formed in the practices of Lent. Resources were provided to parents.
- Parents gathered with their children to develop their own Lenten Plan using the formation and resources that had been provided.
- Parents shared how much more meaningful Lent was when they had some ownership over their plan.
Theme Focused

A Colorado parish offered this approach focused entirely on prayer one year.

Another Texas parish offered this approach focused on Sabbath for an entire year, during the pandemic.

- providing digital resources
- lesson plans
- faith practices
- faith conversations
- even recipes and family night activities

Life of the Parish Component

- Based on OHWB "The Parish is the curriculum."
- Parents (with their children) choose from the many formational, devotional, service-oriented and social events a parish has to offer.
- Some parishes have used the categories of the 4 Pillars of the Catechism: We Believe, We Celebrate, We Live, We Pray
- Some have focused on a "Head, Hearts, Hands" approach
- After experiencing the parish event/ministry, parents reflect on the experience and share their story. (Share those stories and make them evangelizers of the faith community.)
Integrated Faith Formation: Home, Parish, & Community

- AKA a multi-component approach
- Focused on faith practices, faith conversations, connecting to curriculum, parish life, and living the Gospel
- Awakening the parents faith life, connecting them to their children, other parents, and the community

Integrated Faith Formation

A multi-component approach
One parish offered this with the following components:
- Gathered once a month
  - parents at round tables
  - children with catechists
- Home lessons
- Digital resources
- "Life of the Parish" elective
- "Families Living the Gospel" challenge
Permission to Reimagine

"Christian parents are irreplaceable":
• what's working for you
• how do you engage parents?
• how do you walk with them?

"The parish is not an outdated institution; precisely because it possesses great flexibility, it can assume quite different contours depending on the openness and missionary creativity of the pastor and the community. While certainly not the only institution which evangelizes, if the parish proves capable of self-renewal and constant adaptivity, it continues to be 'the Church living in the midst of the homes of her sons and daughters.' This presumpts that it really is in contact with the homes and the lives of its people and does not become a useless structure out of touch with people or a self-absorbed group made up of a chosen few."
